

FIREweek 2010

future internet research and innovation / barcelona, spain 30 june - 1 july 2010

Below you can find some photos of the actual facilities; therefore you can have a more precise idea of what you are going to encounter in Barcelona.

Basically, you can find two types of rooms: classes that we will use as rooms for reviews and seminars that we will use as conference rooms.

As you can see, almost all furniture is movable, making it possible to reconfigure the room at will. Also in all cases all rooms are equipped with wifi, Ethernet, projector, etc. We are also working for allowing Internet2 in these rooms.

As you all know FireWeek is free, in order to make this possible we are counting on a contribution from FireWorks, the CA supporting FireWeek and all the projects that will take part on it. After discussing it, we thought that the simplest and easiest way will be a flat rate per project, independent of being a review meeting or a kick-off.

Please indicate the dates, types and number of rooms that you project will need in order to prepare an initial scheduling. We are aware that things change and initial schedules are just that, but we need an initial forecast.

Also, during Fire Week, concretely on the 30th we will organize a brokerage event aiming at connecting the groups participating in the FireWeek with companies and research groups in Catalonia. In order to organize it we need a contact point for every project because meetings will be pre-arranged.

Thank you very much for your collaboration and
